GERMANY'S NEW PROPOSALS ARE AWAY TOO LOW

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, April 27.—Germany's new proposals, says the London Times, "are not so desirous as the proposals of March, but are still away below what the allies, after many voluntary abatements, have declared to be the minimum demands." With respect to the loan, the Times says the matter of security is highly important and that it is not likely the allies will assent to an interest rate of 4 per cent.

The British government has requested its representatives in Berlin to inquire informally regarding the new German reparations offer for the purpose of clearing up the ambiguity concerning the term of years in which payments would be made under the offer.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, April 27.—Germany's reparations counter proposals are regarded as insufficient. It is declared in authoritative circles here being at least 100,000,000 billion marks below the terms fixed by the supreme allied council last January.

The demands decided upon at that time had been considered as a minimum amounting to approximately 250,000,000,000 marks.

The French viewpoint is that these proposals, instead of making any advance toward a satisfactory settlement of the reparations question are rather a step backward.

SIMON LEAD PLACING ITS MACHINERY

The Simon Silver-Lead Mines company has issued the following statement to the stockholders through its president, P. A. Simon:

"It is with pleasure that I am able to report that our reduction plant is now under cover and the work of placing the machinery is fully under way. Everything will be in complete readiness for operating the plant practically under full capacity when the power from the lower line is turned on. I hope, in a short time, to be able to give you a definite date when the power line will be completed, at which time the mill will be ready for a try-out turn-over."

"The county commissioners of Mineral county have let the contract, and work has started on the survey of the power line, and this work will be rushed with all speed possible. Other necessary material for the construction of the line has been, and is being contracted for as rapidly as possible, and as needed, and the outlook for power and an early production from the mill is all that could be desired, and a matter of satisfaction to your management."

"About the first of the coming month we expect to resume work in the mine, which has been practically suspended owing to having concentrated all of our work on the construction of the mill, and the mill will be put in shape for ore production for the mill. It is probable that some exploratory work will also be carried forward on the lower levels of the mine."

"It is a matter of pride that everything is running smoothly and the work on the mill, which is 80 per cent completed, is getting along in splendid shape for production, and the time is not far distant when our stockholders can hope for visible and material results from our labor."

R. R. OFFICIALS AT RENO FOR COAL RATE HEARING

RENO, Nevada, April 27.—An imposing array of railroad officials will be present when a hearing on the Nevada public service commission's application for reduction in rates on coal from Utah and Wyoming fields to points in Nevada is started before Examiner Patton of the interstate commerce commission in Reno. Representatives of practically every large railroad carrying coal into Nevada will be represented at the hearing.

The Western Pacific company will have Attorney James S. Moore, Jr., and Assistant General Freight Agent Harde of San Francisco; the Southern Pacific, Attorney Elmer Westland and Assistant General Freight Agent M. A. Cummings of San Francisco; the Denver & Rio Grande, Attorney J. G. McMurray and General Freight Agent George Williams of Denver; the Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad, Attorney Bennett and Assistant General Freight Agent William Lincoln of Los Angeles; the Oregon Short Line railroad, Assistant General Freight Agent H. E. Goodwin of Salt Lake City; the Tonopah & Goldfield railroad, Vice-President and Traffic Manager W. D. Forster of Goldfield; the Tonopah & Tidewater railroad, Assistant Traffic Manager W. B. Hinchman of San Francisco; the Nevada Copper Belt railroad, Traffic Manager P. H. Cook of Mason; the Virginia & Truckee railway, General Freight Agent H. L. Griffiths and Attorney Frank Murphy of Carson.

The complaint of the Nevada commission against the existing rates alleges that the present rates are as discriminatory in character as well as being unreasonable and the federal commission is requested to order rates which will meet these objections. An opinion of the interstate commission will be given after consideration of the report to be returned by Examiner Patton.

Traffic Manager E. H. Walker of the Reno chamber of commerce will assist the Nevada commission in an attempt to establish unreasonable rates before the examiner. He has prepared data which shows that the rate from Castlegate, Utah, to Reno is $7.12 1/2 per ton, while the charge from Castlegate to San Francisco, a further haul of 724 miles, is $7.25 per ton.

Charges to Goldfield are shown by the traffic manager to be $12.10 a ton from Castlegate, and to Las Vegas $7.37 1/2 per ton, the same charge that is made for Los Angeles.

(By Associated Press.)
BELFAST, Ireland, April 27.—A funeral unique in the history of Belfast was held here this morning when Patrick and Daniel Duffin, two brothers, who were shot and killed Saturday, were buried.

Falls road shops were closed. The coffins of the brothers were draped with republican flags and hands of Girl Scouts sang hymns and recited the rosary in Irish at intervals.

RUMORS OF GOLD DISCOVERIES BUNK

(By Associated Press.)
GLASGOW, April 27.—Rumors of gold discoveries in Scotland are renewed, but so far there have been no rushes to spots where finds are reported.

That the precious metal is to be found in that country has from time to time been shown by discoveries in Scotland, Sutherlandshire and Lanarkshire, but the quantity seldom has been equal in value to the cost of extracting it.

The business of trading on the toes of others pays no dividends either in friendship or money.

U. S. TREASURER WHITE NEVADA MINE OPERATOR

One of President Harding's recent appointments was that of treasurer of the United States, his choice being Colonel Frank White, of Valley City, North Dakota.

Colonel White is well known to Nevada people, he having visited this state on several occasions. In 1911 he came to Austin with the present editor of the Reveille to look over the property now owned by the Austin-Dakota company. He was favorably impressed with the appearance of the camp, the organization followed and he was elected president, serving until he entered the army in 1917.

Colonel White is an excellent gentleman of versatile accomplishments. He graduated from Illinois as a civil engineer and was attached to the engineering department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, but upon visiting Dakota territory he became impressed with the new country and its vast opportunities. He resigned his position and made homestead entry upon some excellent land near Valley City. He roughed it as a pioneer. His ability being recognized early, he was elected to the state senate for several terms. Having had military training, he was interested in the National Guard, and served in the Philippines as major of the First battalion of North Dakota. He showed extraordinary ability as a soldier, was the acting commander of the regiment. He was elected governor in 1900 and served two terms, proving to be a very efficient executive.

Colonel White again entered the army in 1917 as colonel of the Second North Dakota regiment, and served in France until July, 1919. Being a fluent French scholar, he was able to do very efficient work in a business capacity and he was retained in France several months after the boys returned.—Austin Reveille.

GUARD RAIL FOR DANGEROUS ROAD

That portion of the state highway on the west side of Walker Lake, constituting part of what is known as the "M" line, is to be equipped with a guard rail for the protection of automobile travelers over the road which in this particular place is about 200 feet above the level of the lake, on a slope as steep as the nature of the lower material will stand for a distance of about 125 feet above a vertical cliff between 50 and 75 feet high. Details of the railing are now being worked out by Engineer H. E. Holley of the state highway department. Plans call for about 700 feet of railing two feet high. The railing will be securely fastened to posts framed to "dead men" which will be buried in trenches about four feet long and two and a half feet deep, at intervals of eight feet. The timbers will probably be treated with creosote before they are set in the ground.—Carson News.

KNOWLEDGE OF AIR CONDITIONS VALUABLE ASSET

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 27.—The value to an aviator of knowledge of air conditions is pointed out by C. Leroy Meisinger, government meteorologist, in a paper analyzing the results of data gathered by the weather bureau and the air mail service.

Mr. Meisinger explains that information of upper air conditions has enabled a saving of as high as two hours in the time taken for certain air mail trips of 450 miles, and he looks upon the general lack of knowledge of air currents as the most serious present obstacle to immediate commercial aviation on a large scale in this country.

Europe's reputed superiority over the United States in commercial aviation is discounted by Mr. Meisinger, who says that "every day United States mail planes are flying over legs of such lengths that the famous European routes seem to diminish in importance."

MAY USE SPORTS AS BASIS FOR SCIENCE STUDY

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, April 27.—(Special) Science may become a sporting proposition, if a new method of teaching education in the junior high schools advocated by Professor Lyman A. Nowell, head of the chemistry department of Boston university, is universally adopted. Hockey, chess, sailing and other sports are used as the basis for teaching scientific principles.

"Every boy knows he can't skate with dull skates, but he doesn't know much about the laws of friction," says Professor Nowell. "Practically every scientific principle can be connected up with the facts of sports, fire engines, electric cars, a burning building, his telephone and his wireless apparatus may all be used as illustrations of the practical workings of the laws worked out by science."

PLAYS WITH CAPS LOSES FINGERS

Laelen Curless, young son of Robert Curless, in charge of the mill at the Allied mine at Railroad Springs, had the thumb blown from his left hand and the first and second fingers of that hand blown off at the middle joint late Monday afternoon by the explosion of a blasting cap, according to the Goldfield Tribune.

The boy had a box of caps and matches under his home of crystal and Euclid streets and the explosion, supposed to have been caused by his touching a match to the cap, occurred when he was crouching under the house. The explosion caused an extensive laceration of the left breast and a number of pieces of the brass of the cap were blown into his face, legs and right arm.

Young Curless said the box of caps was procured by a boy living in the neighborhood. Several other children had them, and the father of a little girl found her with one in her mouth. The accident occurred shortly before 4 o'clock, and when it became known that there were other caps besides the one that did the damage, the parents of children in the neighborhood were notified, and several boys and girls were found with the little containers of the powerful fulminants of mercury.

(By Associated Press.)

The strike would compel abandonment of the plan of the Los Angeles Steamship company to start a Los Angeles-San Francisco service with the tugboats Yale and Harvard on May 1 unless the company can obtain experienced crews.

The association announced that 16,500 members of maritime unions on the Pacific coast would receive the strike order. In addition, thousands of stevedores and warehouse workers would be thrown out of employment.
